Altasciences' Chris Perkin Honored as One of 100 Most Inspiring Leaders in the Life Sciences Industry

LAVAL, QC, Canada (August 7, 2017) — Altasciences Clinical Research, one of the largest early phase Clinical Research Organizations (CROs) in North America, is pleased to announce that Chris Perkin, Chief Executive Officer, has been named one of the 100 Most Inspiring Leaders in the Life Sciences Industry by PharmaVOICE magazine for a third consecutive year — an honor bestowed on individuals recognized for the positive impact they have had on the industry through their leadership, influence and positive actions.

Mr. Perkin has been in the industry for more than 40 years, and with his experience and strategic leadership, has brought Altasciences to new heights since joining the company in 2010. He was nominated by his peers and employees for being an exemplary and inspirational corporate leader, whose guidance, dedication, and drive to innovate have contributed to the advancement of clinical trials and ensure the continued success of Altasciences.

When asked how he felt about his third consecutive award, Chris replied "It is always such an honor to receive this recognition because I get to share it with the people that feel as passionately as I do about our business and contribute to our success day in and day out, our staff. They are the ones that challenge the everyday standard, bring to life our vision and drive the company's growth by achieving scientific breakthroughs and saving lives. We truly bring out the best in each other."
